FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS, AND RECOMMENDATION

Pursuant to Special Order 3-251, this case has been automatically referred for findings, conclusions, and recommendation. Based on the relevant findings and applicable law, the motion to vacate, set aside, or correct her sentence should be transferred to the Fifth Circuit as a successive motion.

I. BACKGROUND

On May 27, 2014, Relvy Esquivel (Movant), an inmate in the federal prison system, filed Esquivel's Memorandum in Support of Relief Under Section 2255 of Title 28 United States Code, in his criminal case, Cause No. 3:08-CR-174-L. (See doc. 1). The filing was construed as a § 2255 motion to vacate and opened as a new civil case.

Movant pled guilty to possession with intent to distribute a controlled substance and was sentenced to 240 months imprisonment, followed by a four-year term of supervised release, on February 2, 2009. (No. 3:08-CR-174-L, docs. 12, 19). He filed a notice of appeal on February 5, 2009, and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed his conviction and sentence in an unpublished opinion on November 2, 2009. United States v. Esquivel, No. 09-10151 (5th Cir. Nov. 2, 2009). He did not file a petition for writ of certiorari with the Supreme Court.

Movant subsequently filed a motion to vacate pursuant to § 2255, and it was denied on its merits. United States v. Esquivel, No. 3:10-CV-2417-L (N.D. Tex. Nov. 26, 2012). He now contends that his sentence should be vacated based on recent Supreme Court cases.

II. JURISDICTION

“Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction. They possess only that power authorized by Constitution and statute, which is not to be expanded by judicial decree.” Kokkonen v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 511 U.S. 375, 377 (1994) (citations omitted). They “must presume that a suit lies outside this limited jurisdiction, and the burden of establishing federal jurisdiction rests on the party seeking the federal forum.” Howery v. Allstate Ins. Co., 243 F.3d 912, 916 (5th Cir. 2001). They have “a continuing obligation to examine the basis for jurisdiction.” See MCG, Inc. v. Great W. Energy Corp., 896 F.2d 170, 173 (5th Cir. 1990).

Movant has already filed a § 2255 motion. A subsequent § 2255 motion to vacate is considered second or successive when it: “1) raises a claim challenging the [defendant’s] conviction or sentence that was or could have been raised in an earlier [motion to vacate]; or 2) otherwise constitutes an abuse of the writ.” United States v. Orozco-Ramirez, 211 F.3d 862, 867 (5th Cir. 2000) (quoting In re Cain, 137 F.3d 234, 235 (5th Cir. 1998)). Under Orozco-Ramirez, movant was required to present all available claims related to her conviction or sentence in her first motion to vacate. This “requirement serves the singularly salutary purpose of forcing federal habeas petitioners to think through all potential post-conviction claims and to consolidate them for a unitary presentation to the district court.” 211 F.3d at 870-71 (quoting Pratt v. United States, 129 F.3d 54, 61 (1st Cir. 1997)).

Movant’s current § 2255 motion challenges the same conviction as in his prior motion, which was denied on its merits. Because he now raises claims that he could have raised in his earlier motion, this action is successive within the meaning of § 2255. See United States v. Johnson, 303 Fed. App'x 241 (5th Cir. Dec. 18, 2008) (affirming a district court's dismissal as a successive writ a motion seeking a reduction of sentence under 18 U.S.C. § 3742 where the movant had already filed a § 2255 motion).

When a motion to vacate is second or successive, the movant must seek an order from the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals that authorizes this Court to consider it. See 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3)(A) (made applicable to motions to vacate by § 2255). The Fifth Circuit “may authorize the filing of a second or successive application only if it determines that the application makes a prima facie showing that the application satisfies the requirements of [§ 2244(b)].” Id. § 2244(b)(3)(C). To present a claim in a second or successive application that was not presented in a prior application, the application must show that it is based on: (1) newly discovered evidence that, if proven and viewed in light of the evidence as a whole, would be sufficient to establish by clear and convincing evidence that no reasonable factfinder would have found him guilty of the offense; or (2) a new rule of constitutional law, made retroactive to cases on collateral review by the Supreme Court, that was previously unavailable. Id. § 2244(b)(2).

Movant contends that recent Supreme Court cases should result in his sentence being vacated. Because the Fifth Circuit has not issued an order authorizing the district court to consider a successive § 2255 motion, this Court lacks jurisdiction to consider his new § 2255 motion.

III. RECOMMENDATION

The motion to vacate filed under 28 U.S.C. § 2255 should be TRANSFERRED to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit pursuant to Henderson v. Haro, 282 F.3d 862, 864 (5th Cir. 2002) and In re Epps, 127 F.3d 364, 365 (5th Cir. 1997).

SIGNED this 28th day of May, 2014.

A copy of these findings, conclusions and recommendation shall be served on all parties in the manner provided by law. Any party who objects to any part of these findings, conclusions and recommendation must file specific written objections within 14 days after being served with a copy. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed.
